

The Seville Scholars' Program

Amy Arras, Kayla Sell, Hannah Morris, Taylor Verbsky

Host Family

- Experience authentic culture through food and local housing
- Learn and improve the Spanish language and customs
- Get out of your comfort zone
- Live like a local

Research Project and Classes

- Earn credits from the University to travel and experience new things
- Conduct an individual research project that interests you
- Gain knowledge and experience towards your specific career

Food

- Food is a major part of the culture in Spain
- Food brings Spanish families together, and also brought us students together
- The desserts in Spain (especially churros) are amazing!

Lessons We've learned

- Diversity: the differences from the culture that surrounds you
- Career Building: opening eyes to how others think and act in other situations
- Cultural Appreciation: experience a new way of living.
- Made friends: the people you travel with and the people you meet.
