

Tuition Remission Policy

Tuition remission is a benefit to provide financial assistance for classes taken at the University of Findlay. This benefit is available for eligible Employees and eligible family members and other qualified individuals.

Eligibility requirements apply to this benefit. As described below, some tuition remission benefits qualify as a tax-free benefit, while other tuition remission benefits must be treated as taxable income to the beneficiary of the tuition remission benefit.

Eligibility for tuition remission begins the first full semester following the Employee's date of hire.

Eligible individuals under this Policy may only be recognized in one category which are defined by hierarchical order as follows:

- i. “Employees”: Individuals who are currently employed by the University and who are either: i) regular, full-time; or ii.) benefits- eligible part-time employees.
- ii. “Employee’s Spouse”: Individual married to eligible Employee defined in (i). A valid marriage certificate must be produced to confirm eligibility.
- iii. “Child”: A biological, step, or adopted child of an eligible Employee defined in (i), (iv) and (vii), subject to age and enrollment restrictions. A birth certificate or legal decree must be produced to confirm eligibility.
- iv. “Non-Dependent Child”: A qualifying biological, adopted, step or foster child of an eligible Employee defined in (i), (viii), over the age of 24.
- v. “Retiree”: Individual who has retired from the University at the conclusion of 10 consecutive years and for whom the sum of age and length of service is at least 65.
- vi. “Retiree’s Spouse”: Individual married to eligible Retiree as defined in (v). A valid marriage certificate must be produced to confirm eligibility.
- vii. “Retiree’s Child”: A biological, step, or adopted child of eligible Retiree as defined in (v), subject to age and enrollment restrictions. Birth certificates or legal decrees establishing the relationship must be produced to confirm eligibility.
- viii. “Deceased Employee”: Individual who was actively employed by the University and who dies while classified as an active status, full- time employee.
- ix. “Deceased Employee’s Spouse”: Individual married to eligible Deceased Employee at the time of the Deceased Employee’s death and who have not become remarried. A valid marriage certificate and valid death certificate must be produced to confirm eligibility.

x. “Deceased Employee’s Child”: A biological, step, or adopted child of a deceased employee as defined in (viii), subject to age and enrollment restrictions. A birth certificate or legal decree must be produced to confirm eligibility.

Initial Enrollment Process Requirements and Deadlines

Individuals wishing to enroll and participate in Tuition Remission Programs must complete the following requirements:

- Apply for admission to the University or a Program as all other students do and be formally admitted based on the established admission and academic criteria of the College or Program for which they seek to enroll.
- Non-bachelor and/or non-graduate degree holders must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and accept all scholarships, grants, and free government monies for which the applicant qualifies.
 - Federal and state grant monies, merit scholarships, external scholarships, and University endowed scholarships will be applied to the student account prior to tuition remission.
- After admission to the University, the Employee or qualified individual must submit a Tuition Remission Application. This application is accessible in Workday and can be found by searching “Create Request > Tuition Remission Application.” Newly admitted qualified individuals must submit a Tuition Remission Application after registering for their first semester or 30 days prior to the semester in which the individual seeks to receive such benefits, whichever is later. This application must be completed for each semester of which an employee or qualified individual is seeking to obtain tuition remission benefits.
- Employees subject to taxation for benefits received will receive notification from a representative from the Office of Human Resources to inform the employee of the appropriate taxation amount and pay withholding amount.

All of the above requirements must be completed before any Tuition Remission Program benefits will be reviewed for approval by the University. Failure to complete these initial enrollment process requirements may result in denial of Tuition Remission Program benefits.

Continuing Enrollment Requirements and Deadlines

After the initial approval of Tuition Remission Program benefits, qualified individuals seeking tuition remission benefits in future semesters are required to submit the Tuition Remission Application via Workday at least thirty days before the semester begins, for every semester in which they seek such benefits.

Undergraduate and Graduate students must complete the FAFSA application annually and the taxation review by the Office of Human Resources must be completed each semester.

Failure to complete these continuing enrollment requirements may result in denial of Tuition Remission Program benefits.

Loss of Eligibility and Payment Requirements

If an Employee's employment ceases for any reason during the course of a given semester, term, or session, the tuition remission amount awarded for the given semester will be the final award applied for the participating student.

A student will be responsible for repayment of any remission benefit received for any class failed. Additionally, if a student's cumulative GPA drops below a 2.0 on a scale of 4.0, the student will be responsible for repayment of any remission benefit received for the semester in which the cumulative GPA was below 2.0.

Credit Hour and Other Limitations

Employees are eligible to take any number of classes desired at any given time. If the Employee seeks to enroll in a class offered during the Employee's normal working hours, permission to enroll in the course must be obtained from the Employee's manager before enrollment. The manager may revise the Employee's work schedule during the semester, and the Employee will be expected to make up the work time.

Eligible family members or other qualified individuals are eligible for undergraduate tuition remission for no more than 8 semesters or completion of undergraduate degree, whichever comes first.

Program Exclusions and Limitations
